ACTIVITIES SECTION

National Honor Society

Tational Honor Society is a group made up of students show ing particular excellence in academic areas as well as dem onstrating character, service, and leadership. The application process begins in junior year when students who meet the necessary GPA requirement receive a letter inviting them to apply to the group. Junior year, the application consisted of charts to fill in with lists of all awards you've received, jobs you've held, activities you've been involved in, and leadership positions you've held. Each item required a signature of verification. Next, a team of faculty members reviewed the applications and selected the ones they thought met the qualifications. Students who didn't make it into the club junior year are invited to apply again at the beginning of senior year.

Ms. Laramie, the faculty advisor, decided this year that she wanted to redo the traditional application. This decision came about because she wanted to offer students an opportunity to express more about themselves and their honorable qualities than the other application's lists and signatures allowed for. Now the application is filled out on computer spreadsheets that allot space for three short essays explaining three incidents/activities which express each of the following qualities in the applicant: character, leadership, and service. Each student has the same amount of room for these essays. There is also space allotted for a description of personal activities/hobbies, and one for anything that you'd like to tell the selection committee.

Student Council

The Student Union changed its name to the Student Council this year, in order to change the organization's identity. The main food of the council was to become a more active and visible body within the school community. Aside from the nominal change, the way people join the club has changed. In prior years, students were elected to office. This year it is a voluntary club full of people who truly are devoted to improving the schoool." -Grace Bloodwell, President

"My fellow student council goers are not only my co-workers, but the closest of my friends."

Kara DiSarcina

The student council planned and participated in many activities this year, including

-the annual Teacher's Tea

-the Vollyball tournament, which every year keeps getting more popular and has more participants

-walked in the "Big Steps for Little People" walk-a-thon. (Run by the Winchester Hospital)

"Many people enjoy the walk-a-thon because they know its's for a good cause and feel happy they are contributing to the community."

HMUN

I arvard Model United Nations is a simulation of the United Nations. HMUN simulates only certain parts of the United Nations. The 1998 simulations consisted of six General Assembly committees, seven Economics and Social Council committees, seven Specialized Agencies, and the Press Corps. Each high school attending the conference represented one or more countries, and each country was represented by one or two delegates in each committee. The work at the conference took place in the committees through formal debate and the resolution writing and caucusing process. Winchester High represented Burundi, Liberia, and Barbados.

Lawrence Francis Borges, HMUN veteran. What was the best part about the conference?

"Caucusing. Pure and simple. C-A-U-C-U-S-I-N-G. Personally, I prefer the un-moderated caucus, but I'm all for the moderated caucus as well. The best thing about those caucuses is that it's a procedural vote. That means I get to raise my placard."

"Actually, I had no idea what to expect of the conference. What if I blanked out when they made roll call? What would people think? I figured the best way to be prepared for any of the catastrophes was to know the rules, plain and simple. So, one night I literally locked myself in my room and studied the Rules of Procedure hard core.

When we got to the conference, I found my committee room all right, got a good seat right in the front and prepared myself to use my knowledge of the rules whenever possible. But I still blanked when they made roll call."

ach ABC student has something unique that he brings to the program. Yuan is a well-known track star year round as well as attending Brown University next year. Joe is a well-rounded athlete who plays football, basketball, and baseball. Anthony is a varsity wrestler. Adrian is a freshman this year from Yougstown, Ohio and has participated in marching band, concert band, after school chorus and is a Baritone B.C. as well as the freshman class treasurer. Rubin is a freshman from San Antonio, Texas, plays football and participates in after school chrous. Alex is a freshman from New York and an accomplished violin, viola, and piano player. Adults who stay at the house are: Tia, Alan, Danielle, and Daniel. The ABC students have recently gone on an outing to Ipswitch for a canoeing trip. Some of the fund raising they have set up has been: Spring and Winter dances and the ABC concert. If the students make honor role they get money. The ABC house has been in effect for 29 years

"The ABC house has a great atmosphere. Everyone gets along really well and there are so many diverse interests" ~Joe Crisp, junior.

MCI

- To provide an environment in which people are valued, accepted, and appreciated.
- To provide forums for open dialogue.
- To foster understanding and acceptance of differences.

CI was started by the Winchester Multi-Cultural Network in 1991. Twenty-four students were chosen for a pilot multi-cultural leadership training workshop. After the workshop the students decided to stay together and meet on a regular basis. MCI is not a club that requires membership. The forums take place on the first Monday of each month and are open to all students. The forums are designed to discuss and raise awareness to multicultural issues that impact students in the high school, such as: gender, race, homophobia, religious differences, and ethnic stereotypes. MCI students are encouraged to participate in multi-cultural leadership training workshops and attend conferences. There is a group named ANYTOWN that deals with multi-cultural issues that MCI works with. ANYTOWN has a very enriching summer program that gets kids from different backgrounds together from across the state to learn more about acceptance and other people.

Quotes from students and alumni of MCI:

"It was a great part of my life, and whenever I think back at high school, I'll think of it... I am so glad that I had the chance to be a part of something that was trying to make a difference, and I will try to continue this from now on..."

"MCI has been and will continue to be a very enlightening experience. Through this group I have met new friends, have become involved with the community, and most importantly, contributed what I have to offer to society."

pectrum is a group that formulated out of the pre-existing BiGlass. It is a gay-straight alliance as well as a place where open discussion on all subjects--peer, family and romantic relationships, harassment, prejudice, general frustration--is welcome. Spectrum meetings are open to all and provide a safe atmosphere for those who are interested in participating.

Spectrum was one of the groups that participated in our school's mini focus day. The chosen topic to "focus" on was homophobia. Members of Spectrum and other interested students went through a two hour leadership training session with a speaker from the Massachusetts Safe School's Program. Primarily, the focus day achieved its purpose of enlightening many about homophobia, but it also brought together the student body as a whole and began to create a secure atmosphere for all students. Members of Spectrum became more and more involved throughout the school year. They attended the GLSEN (Gay Lesbian Straight Education Network) conference and took part in the Day of Silence on April 7.

SOS

O.S. (Students Offering Support) is and organization which focuses on helping others, educating our peers, and improving our school enviornment. The club is made up of 25 sophomores, juniors and seniors. Run by Kristen Shea and Tammie Lewis, this orginazion meets twice a month to plan projects that S.O.S members will partake in. Some of these projects include Toilet Talk and organizing assemblies and disussions for the school that educate the student body and make everyone more aware of the issues affecting teenagers today. S.O.S. has undergone some changes within the past year with the addition of Ms. Shea, the new school pshchologist. Ms. Shea comes to us from Taunton High School, which she says is a lot different from WHS. She is excited to work with a different crowd and has so many ideas for our school. Her energy to accomplish positive things is remarkable. In the short time that Ms. Shea has been with us, she has already made a positive impact at Winchester High. Her kindness, humor, and understanding nature have hit so many students at WHS. We are so glad to have her as an added member of our community.

This year, Ms. Shea decided that S.O.S. be open to underclassmen also, and that there be no application process. The addition of underclassmen was due partly to the idea that more perspective can be gained. S.O.S. also hopes to accomplish many activities for the student body. Each month will be dedicated to a different topic and, through assemblies, discussions, guest speakers, visual displays, and Toilet Talk, S.O.S. hopes to educate the student body to make it one of awareness and understanding. These topics include Homosexuality/Safe Schools, Racism and Oppression, Healthy Relationships, Substance Abuse Prevention, Depression, and Sexual Health.

One of the many projects that S.O.S. is involved in is Toilet Talk. Toilet Talk is an innovative way to inform students on an informal level. It is produced 2-3 times a month and covers the topic that is being discussed that month. Toilet Talk is hung up in the bathroom stalls so that while students are using the facilities, they may be able to gain some interesting statistics, facts and information.

Roxbury and Lynch Tutoring

The tutoring program runs from the end of fall through to the beginning of winter. The tutors are taken to the elementary schools at the end of the day. The session lasts for an hour. There is a snack break where food and drinks are served. The tutors feel that they are really helping the younger kids. The children understand their work a lot more after they are tutored. They also become friends with each other. The younger students really look up to the older kids.

Inchester High School's tutoring program offers a chance for high school students to interact with and teach elemen tary level children. The children in the program bring in their schoolwork for the older students to help them with. The students are tutored at the Muraco and Lynch schools, as well as in Roxbury. Ms. Gallery is the head and organizer of the program. She coordinates with the principals of the schools to arrange the dates tutoring should take place. She selects which elementary students should be in the program, and matches them up with their tutors.

Megan Pappetti is tutoring Lynch and Muraco for her third year. She is working with a second and fifth grader. She enjoys working with the kids and helping them learn. She noted that the students are dedicated and work hard to get their assignments done.

SADD

S.A.D.D. is planning to hold a mini focus day later this year to help the students realize what could happen when they choose to make a bad decision. One of the most interesting activities that they are planning is a face painting activity. Statistics show that every 12 minutes a person is killed in alcohol related accidents. So every 12 minutes throughout the day we are going to paint a person's face with a red line, symbolizing that they have died. Once you have the red mark, you are no longer aloud to talk or be talked to. By the end of the day, the majority of the school will have red marks on their faces, and everyone will be able to see how many people can die due to alcohol. Other activities at the focus day will be things such as speakers, parents and people whose lives have been affected by drugs or alcohol. They were also going to try to get a simulated accident like there was a few years back.

Structive Decisions. A regular meeting consists of game playing, pizza eating, making posters, and most of all, talking. S.A.D.D. is a laid back club that anyone can join at any time. It's a club where students come together to talk about serious high school issues, and try to find ways to help other students make the right decisions. S.A.D.D. takes serious subjects and finds fun ways to talk about them in an interesting and educational way.

S.A.D.D. is planning fund-raisers to raise some money such as bottle drives, car washes, trash pick ups, and, possibly the biggest moneymaker, key chain selling. We are going to have key chains made with a slogan or picture on them to sell.

Drunk Driving Around the World

If you think US drunk Driving laws are tough...

In Australia: the names of the drivers are sent to local newspapers and are printed under the heading, "He's drunk and in jail."

In Malaya: the driver is jailed, if he's married his wife is jailed too.

In South Africa: the penalty is a 10-year prison sentence and the equivalent of a $10,000 fine or both.

In Turkey: drunks are taken 10 miles from town by the police and forced to walk back under escort.

In Norway: the penalty is three weeks in jail at hard labor and one year loss of license. Second offense within five years, the license is revoked for life.

In Finland and Sweden: there's automatic jail for one year at hard labor.

In Russia: license is revoked for life.

In England: one year supervision and $250 fine and one year in jail

In France: three year loss of license, one year in jail and a $1000 fine.

In Poland: jail, fine and enforced attendance at political lectures.

In Bulgaria: a second conviction results in execution.

In El Salvador: your first conviction is your last - execution by firing squad

Outing Club

the feeling of accomplishment overwhelmed us all.

Many students of WHS think that the Outing Club is a brand new idea. An outing club did exist at one time at WHS. Mr. Bouley, one of our current eight grade science teachers, was the first to start an Outing Club. Not only would this club go on day trips but Mr. Bouley would actually take a group of students on week long trips over the summer. After several years Mr. Bouley's Outing Club came to an end. With the help of 3 dedicated WHS advisors, the Outing Club is part of WHS once again!

he outing club is a new addition to the extracurricular clubs of WHS. With Mr. Ruter, Ms. Bennett, and Mr. Burke as advisors this club has brought an interesting addition to the traditional clubs of the past. The purpose of the outing club is to give students a chance to participate in outdoor activities that they would not normally be exposed to. Some of these trips give the students a chance to challenge themselves by pushing them to their limits.

The outing club along with its exciting field trips also has another interesting aspect; they have a mascot! Ms. Bennet's dog, Ben, has been a loyal friend of the Outing Club. Not only did he climb the six mile loop up Mt. Cardigan, but he also went on the snow shoeing trip! Hopefully Ben will be able to accompany the Outing Club on all of its adventures!

The first trip that the Outing Club went on was a journey up Mt. Cardigan in New Hampshire. 15 WHS students showed up to hike the six mile loop over two peaks. The hiking got rough at times but everyone kept positive attitudes. We toughed it out and before we knew it we were looking over the peak at Mt. Cardigan. The view was breathtaking but

The Red& Black has faced many struggles, but through all the computer problems, missing zip disks, lack of articles and staff members, and a large lack of support from the student body; we feel that this year has been a triumph. The '98-'99 season for the Red& Black has been one filled with growth and progression. One reason for this was the addition of a new editor, Heidi Sullivan. Heidi has been a particular help to the Red&Black this year, for she has brought her enthusiasm as well as her computer skills. Another addition to the team was Jay Higgins, who lent a hand with the sports articles. Returning from last year were Elizabeth Bolles and Jeff Swanson, as well as our advisor Ms Gillespie, who helped out during the last minute editing sessions. We would also like to thank the many people who volunteered to write articles, and to the student publications class, and Ms Bennett, who gave us a large portion of the articles that appeared in the paper. Finally we would like to give a big friendly thanks to Yearbook, for letting us invade their space, their precious toys, their food and their sanity.

ave you ever heard the uncanny story of how .Ms. Bennett and Ms. Bentley have been following each other around since they were just wee little ones? That's right, these two have been together since kindergarten. At WHS, their lockers were right next to each other and right outside of the Foreign Language area. Now they're back, just feet from their old lockers, with Ms. Bennett teaching German, and Ms. Bentley teaching French. Who knows what the future holds for these two.

Two of Ms. Bentley's French classes have developed intercontinental relationships with a group of thirty-eight kids living in St. Germain, France. These penpals regularly write to each other as a way to improve their foreign language skills. Andrew Marder, a WHS French student recently commented on the program, saying, "It's a great way for both of us to learn about each other's culture. I think that all the foreign language departments should do this."

The world languages department at WHS is driven to make the world a better place. In the weeks leading up to Christmas vacation, the Italian division hosted a toy drive. All the Italian students brought in a toy, which then went to the Italian Home for Children in Boston, a shelter for orphaned and homeless children. The Italian students collected an enormous amount of presents which were given to the children. The Italian Home for Children was overwhelmed by the generosity of the WHS students.

The Spanish exchange students paid a visit in September to our little town of Winchester. The trip was organized by Ms. Alverez who planned out a fun-filled schedule for the Spanish kids. During their stay, the Spanish students went to the aquarium, Harvard Square, and Boston. The WHS students will be going to Spain for three weeks in April. They will stay in a hotel in Madrid for two nights and then take a train to Bilbao, a suburban town that is apparently a lot like Winchester. Maureen Higgins, who is going on the Spanish exchange said, "The Spanish kids were really nice. I can't wait to go to their country in April."

The scent of Spring is in the air. Along with the blooming flowers and green grass came the German exchange. German students from a suburb of Munich came to Winchester for three weeks in March. They started their trip with a visit to New York. Next year, the Winchester students will go to their town and experience German culture first hand.

mong the changes to the English department this year is the promotion of the much loved Mrs. Hession to the head of the department. She says she loves the new job, especially the challenges and the various duties it entails. Fortunately, she has not disappeared from teaching, luckily for us. She still teaches her favorite class—drama—as well as others.

In addition. this year brought the arrival of Mr. Brasher-Cunningham, who was already known around town. His wife is a minister in Winchester and he leads the corresponding church youth group. Many students already knew him as "Milton." He not only brings his warm personality and excellent guitar skills (the English department loves guitarists), but also an incredible understanding of the issues occupying kids today. He's always ready to spend time discussing current events and issues that are shaping our world, such as the murder of Matthew Shepard.

There's a doctor in our midst!! Did you know Dr. Benton was a hypnotist? His practice has been growing in recent years, and he has recently opened an office at Winchester Hospital. He has even hypnotized a few of our teachers! So if you ever need a problem fixed, you know who you can turn to...

Humanities

s humanities the best class at Win chester High School? It very well Lould be. With four subjects, Literature, History, Art, and Music, we couldn't have had more fun. We studied the four subjects as they pertained to about nine days the class takes a trip to Italy visiting the cities of Venice, Rome, various artwork that we studied in the the dome in Rome and others.

David Ardito

William O'Connor

Class projects are always great in Humanities. The foam-core Cathederal project was one of the best. We built cathedrals out of foam core with either height, beauty, or both in mind. There were many beautiful cathedrals and even a new record breaking height of twentyone inches past the ceiling tiles.

Not only was the class great, but the people were too. There are an immeasurable amount of laughs and memories from the class about teachers and students. There is always something to laugh or joke about, be it with teachers, or back at your table. Mr. O'Connor always used Tony Amico as an example when speaking about a person or about people during a time period; surprise essays on English tests; in music class, nobody would really know what was going on (sorry Mr. McCann); Mr Ardito's way of teaching and the list goes on. It was a great year.

hen asked what "Social Stud ies" means to him, one anony mous WHS student replied "Social Studies is the essence of our world. It is probably the most pertinent of all subjects that we learn here in the hallowed halls of WHS. Unlike math or science, social studies gives us an idea of where our world has been, where it is, and where it is going. It provides us with an understanding of a variety of cultures, religions, laws, and bestows upon us a sense of belonging to something that has been continuing for centuries. From Foundations of Civilization, straight through AEG I and II, right up to the issues of the '90s, nothing beats Social Studies!"

In the Social Studies department, not only are Mr. Maloney and Mr. Cantillon talented teachers, but they are also talented runners and coaches as well. Both teachers coach the famed Cross Country team and Spring Track team and Mr. Cantillon coaches Winter Track. One of the most amazing parts about this is that they been doing it for 20+ years. Both men have seen many talented runners come and go, as well as many winning seasons on the track. Their coaching skills are unparalleled by any other coaches around. We hope that Mr. Maloney and Mr. Cantillon continue their fantastic coaching for years to come!!!

Math

At Winchester High School the Math Department is an important part of the high school curriculum. Math is a subject that most students find interesting and challenging at the same time. Skills developed from math prepare students for high level careers with strong backgrounds in technology.

With the upcoming millennium, mathematics and technology will play bigger and bigger roles. The math courses at Winchester High School are designed to challenge students and prepare them for the future.

he math team at WHS had a good year. After many practices and intense preparation they participated in many math meets, and have always been successful. Like any other team, they work together to proudly represent Winchester High School. Their dedication and enjoyment of math has given them the opportunity to compete against many other schools in the area.

At Winchester High School, there has always been a focus on applying our knowledge to the real world. What makes math different from other subjects is its ability to be applied to everything else in the world. There is math in everything you do, whether it be playing sports or going shopping. Math is a basic part of our lives, and we are lucky for it to be taught to us by such a strong department.

Main focus of each curriculum:

Biology: Heredity, Darwin, evolution, DNA, cellular structure, the heart and vascular system, photosynthesis.

Chemistry: Periodic Table, history of elements (discovery and arrangement), chemical formulas, chemical reactions.

Physics: matter and energy and their interactions.

APG: Anatomy (study of the human body), Physiology (functions and functioning of living matter and beings), and Genetics (study of DNA makeup and heredity).

AP Physics Students consistently score the highest on their AP physics exams among all of the AP tests taken in the school. Hooray for Mr. Smith!

So that everyone knows, October 23 is Mole Day, we celebrate with a filmstrip from the seventies.

Brent Ruter

Mrs. Smith really loves her holidays. Beware on Halloween— she goes all out. You will enter a classroom with all the lights turned off, and a tape of howling wolves and people screaming in the background. She holds out a bag of candy, but be careful because you may pull out a rubber bat or mouse instead of a Tootsie Roll.

Susan Smith

Mrs. Sullivan currently teaches Biology classes. She is a favorite teacher because of her cheerfulness and great personality. She loves cats, and enjoys telling her classes about Los Gatos, California. In her class, you will study Darwin, heredity, cellular structure, and photosynthesis. Be prepared to watch a lot of science videos, especially about the

Physical Education

Maryellen Quine

As a result of the retirement of Jan Dolan we have a new department head. Mrs. Quine has taken on this new responsibility. When asked how she liked her new position she said, "It's challenging! But I do like it. I am learning an awful lot."

his year the Phys.-Ed depart ment has endured many changes. Two former gym teachers have retired, Mrs. Dolan and Ms. Rozazza. As a result of these retirements we have acquired a new department head, Mrs. Quine. The Phys-Ed department is now offering roller blading, as a new activity choice. But perhaps the biggest change is the new rule that allows juniors and seniors to have gym as an option, not a requirement, after they have successfully completed the course freshman and sophomore year.

David Berman

Mr. Berman is also the athletic director, as well as a first year gym teacher.

Thomas Kline

"Get Tough!"

Andrea Cogan

Mrs. Cogan (our second year Phys-Ed teacher and gymnastics coach), along with Mrs. Quine, has just won a grant for the physed department. This grant will be put towards "steps" for a step aerobics class being offered next year.

This year the Phys-Ed department is really feeling the loss of the upperclassmen. Since gym has become a non-required elective for juniors and seniors there are only a handful of upper-class students taking gym. So the department has been working hard, trying to brainstorm possible ideas to make kids want to take gym. One idea was turning the gymnasium into more of a fitness center, This would entail a little more equipment in the weight room, and offering step and aerobic classes. "We'd like to see more upperclassmen back in classes" says Mrs. Quine.

Technology

echnology is a subject constantly on the hearts and minds of people everywhere. Because technology plays a key part in everyday life, the technology department is a key part of the Winchester High School experience. Whether you want to learn how to work with wood, fix up your car, draft, build electronic devices, or learn about video communications, this is the department for you. Each class will greatly help you in your future. What if you are on the highway and get a flat tire, you would have to call AAA, and wait many hours for them to come. If you were to take Auto Shop you would be able to change the flat your self and save your self time and money!

We are also truly blessed, because one of last years recipients for the junior technology award has graced us with a short interview. Here is a small snippet from the in depth conversation:

"Man, the technology department has really helped me a lot. Coming into the high school I thought I had no real talent, but after taking wood shop, I learned that I could design my own high-quality piece and build it myself. Though wood shop is not known for its instant gratification, it was worth it to see that with hard work. I could produce something that could outlive me by centuries!"

David Miller

In Woodshop, you are taught how to design and create your own projects out of wood. The department head, David Miller, teaches this class. When not teaching hundreds the difference between the miter gauge and rip-fence he can be found golfing! In fact he coaches the golf team in the fall. Mr. Miller always has the scoop on the best golf around; he has played on them all.

Ronald D'Addario

Auto Shop is taught by Ron D'addario. If your car is ailing, you can bring it down to auto, and "Mr. D," as he is commonly known, will do his best to help you out. If you take auto, Mr. Dwill show you how you can repair your car. Every year Mr. D takes a group of students on a field trip to New York City to visit an auto show. Mr. D is also one of the most caring teachers at WHS, if you have a problem, you can tell him, and he will do the best he can to help you out.

John Fusco

John Fusco teaches a wide range of subjects for the technology department. They consist of Communications, Electronics, and Drafting. In Communications you learn the ins and outs of television production. You come up with your own idea for a short movie, then tape and edit it yourself or in a group. Mr. Fusco too also enjoys golf. This year utilized his teaching skills to help make the golf video for the golf team.

Family and Consumer Science

"If there's time to learn, there's time to clean."

Virginia Laats

Eileen Szeto

The goals of Family and Consumer Sciences are to teach skills for life and to have fun. In FaCS, you use everything that is taught to you later in life, as well as skills that you are taught in other classes. Math is used to do cost analysis, measuring, increasing and decreasing recipes. Science is part of food, for you need to know what freezes and what does not. Art, language and social studies are used in cooking, sewing, and child development.

The Advanced Culinary Arts class made gingerbread houses to sell and raffle off. The money was donated to the youth cen-

The Sewing class made different sized and colored dolls. The larger dolls are for the grammer schools, so they will learn about multiculturalism. The smaller dolls were given to the Boston Medical Center, for doctors and nurses to show kids where they are going to perform an operation or procedure. Using these dolls helps children be less afraid when in the hospital.

Business and Computers

he business and computer wing is the type of place where you get involved in one of the computer classes or business programs, it's one of the best times of your day. Mr. Kozak (a.k.a. Special K), who heads the business and computer department, teaches skills that are actually useful, marketable and fun.

Donald Kozak

If you want options, you won't be shortchanged. You can learn computer graphics and make signs, brochures, newsletters, drawings, or whatever your heart desires and hard drives can fit. You get your information from the wonderful world wide web where you can download pictures or text that you can present in almost limitless ways. Or if you wanted to type your own text, let's hope you can type more than one word per minute. If not, try Special K's touch-typing course

There are some people, however, who want nothing to do with computers. For these low techies, Kozak & Co. offer several different business programs. How about working at the Sachem Trading Post in the morning or during your lunch break? You get the opportunity to deal with customers, cash and inventory. Oh yeah, you get a cool T-shirt too. Another option is working at your very own WHS Savings Bank. Learn the ropes of the banking profession without stepping outside of school. Volunteers work in the bank in the morning or during lunch.

So come on down to the business and computer wing on the first floor. Maybe one day you can come to school and teach yourself something worth learning. Something you can actually use. Who knows? Why not go down and give it a try? They won't bite.

have to just use books because the new center provides us with all the latest information. The new center also exposes the students to a variety of media, current events and more. So far the Media Center has been successful and helpful to us at WHS.

he Learning Center is a place where students can go for support in any subject and to stay focused. It also keeps the lines of communication open between teachers and students. The Learning Center has connections with LINC and Excell.

Mr. Pirani is a caring man who loves kids. Recently, he has been involved with school issues and helping to make it a more student-centered environment. In his spare time, Mr. Pirani is a bee keeper and enjoys his garden. He loves being a Lacrosse and Football coach. He also is a great tutor and co-teacher. One of his favorite quotes is: "Sport does not provide us with the issues of life, but rather provides us with one of the richest fields for asking questions".

r. Olson, used to be a WHS Social Studies teacher before he became an Assistant Principal. He is a strict disciplinarian but only when necessary. He has friendliness and generosity to spare, not to mention a fish tale or two. The moment you enter his office, you enter a realm of rules and fish. Pictures, posters, and map show the where and how to snag the big one. And he's caught them all, right?

Ms. Britt, the school nurse, is very friendly. Whether you feel sick, need a cough drop or a pain reliever, or just need someone to talk to, you trip to the nurses office is never a bad one.

Along with the Guidance Counselors is the guidance secretary, Mrs. Burchard. If you can't get ahold of your counselor then she is the person to talk to. She is always there to answer any questions that you need to ask. Also, when it comes to doing college applications, she is a big help. She is the one who puts together transcripts and mails them, so remember not to get on her bad side!

Ms. Branley is literally "the life of the office." She produces infinite smiles, even on her bad days. And she can have plenty of bad days dealing with us. The super-secretary has to deal with tardy passes, dismissals, forgotten lunches and study hall-less students on a daily basis, not to mention the continuously ringing phone which she must answer.

This year at yearbook we had a depressingly pathetic 0-8 deadline record. This was caused mostly by our ailing Power Macintosh 7100, and the many ways that computers enrich our lives. The editors, Dan Hayes, Andy Leiserson and Heidi Sullivan, and lone staff members Lara Anderson and Nick Beckmann, all put in hour after bone-crunching hour during the wee hours of the evening, enduring more than 16 hours without leaving the school building. (The sports editors were James Sweeney and Steve Migausky, we think.) Also helping were the members of the student publications class, and their spectacular picturecropping and template-choosing abilities. Our rookie advisor, Ms. Bennett, also put in long hours alongside us. However, if you are reading this, then our mission is accomplished, and all is well.

The 99 yearbook staff would like to thank many individuals for the success of this year's valiant squadron: Willy Gates, Kai Krause, the ugly translucent G3, hotmail, Coca-Cola, the powers that be, stolen ethernet, the floppy disk, one space after every period, aku soku zan(!), and the amazing Zorba, who always dazzles us. So long, and thanks for all the fish!

nder second year coach Glenn Ciotti, the men's 1998 tennis team went 18-0 for the season, capturing a Middlesex league championship. The team was lead by Junior Captain Dan Schoennherr. Schoennherr played first doubles with Shane Proch-Wilson. Schoennherr and Proch-Wilson only lost one match in the regular season, and one in the tournament, making them the number one doubles team in the league, and one of the best in the state. Both were awarded Middlesex League All-Star recognition. The other doubles team of Matt Kuberski and Derek Pahigiannis played solid tennis throughout the season. They were also recognized as Middlesex League All-Stars. For the singles, Milos Janicek (one of the top players in New England) came back to play for us. Janicek was among the best high school singles players in the state. Janicek was awarded best singles players in the league and was a Middlesex League All-Star. Playing singles we had sophomore Jon Bram. Bram lost only one match, which was in the preseason. Bram was awarded best second singles player in the league and was a Middlesex All-Star. For 1999, tri-captains Schoennherr, Kuberski and Proch-Wilson will lead another promising team, stacked with some of the league's best players.

It seems that this team is unstoppable, with its 72-0 record since 1996. We have 3 state titles, 3 Middlesex titles, and 3 individual State doubles titles under our belt.

The Winchester Women's Tennis team is coached by Gavin Barton, who was named coach of the year in 1998. The 1999 team will be led by tri-captains Aly Bergin, Danielle Lentine, and Shannon Rowe. Along with our teammates Mary Chang, Alison Criscitiello, Rachel Criscitiello, Caitlin Butler and the support of our J.V. players, we are looking for our fourth state win. Combining talent with our love for the game, we are hoping to make W.H.S. history.

After the existence of the team was threatened, we came back to dominate the Middlesex League. Our small but potent force ravaged the league like an untamed wildfire.

The team was lead by Eric "Rockin' the Cell Block" Schrock and Yuan "Can't touch this" Newton. Hank "The Tank" Kwong ruled the high jump, Horace "Don't breathe" Simmons took top places in the two mile, Jared "Where's my speed?" Aherndominated the shot put, Kenny "I have to pay for that hurdle" Kwong took first at states in the mile and Nick "I don't need a nickname" Bushnell threw the javelin for a new school record, while Steve "Where's the Bus" Migausky put fear into the opponents. There were no regrets over Dave" Wasn't There For the Queen" Treen.

To all the graduates, Amit "Big Worm" Verma, Chris "Mishu" Macek, Matty "My bad" Porter, My boy Ilya, Donahue and Josh "Whitax" Whitaker, good luck at those Division III collegiate sports. To all those who didn't get mentioned above, Iovine, Lindmark and Kennedy, sorry, we forgot. And to the freshman, Ballantine, Looby and Guerin, "You're the kind of men I'd want to go to war with."

The 1998 girl's spring track team was led by a dedicated group of seniors. Captains Heather Ballantyne and Rebecca Aldrich dominated in the long distances. Heather qualified for the states in the 2 mile. Rebecca excelled in the mile in local, state and regional competition, Katie Barauskas, also a senior, led the team in field events. She qualified for states in both discus and shotput. Other strong competitors on the team were Kieron Kassner placing 5th in the Middlesex League in 400m, Avry Thompson placed 4th in the league for javilin and Laura Davis placed 9th in the league for 200m. Their performances also qualified them for the state meet.

Although the team's small numbers were problematic, the fun times we shared made up for the losses we suffered in competition. Who could forget the all day cookout event Winchester held at the Mass State Relays? Or the time Amanda B, Heather B, and Laura D battled their way through the one mile during an all out downpour in Reading!! We will never forget the times we shared together.

fter an 11-10-0 mark in his first season, Coach Mike Pagliarulo strongly believed both his coaching and his team record would increase. With the players' work ethic prior to the start, and the hard work during the season, the Sachems were ready for every game.

One thing the team did not lack is experience. Virtually the whole infield came back for the 1999 season, besides the position of catcher, which was filled by Jason Lanzillo. The pitchers for this season included Jeff Capone, Jay Higgins and lefty Paul Koslowski. Outfield was lead by Senior leader Jeremy Carroll and returning players such as J.A. Koslowski and Tom DiCarlo.

The senior class has been successful since a young age. Summer State Champion-ships were not unusual and there were often Regional road trips. This class knew how to win and with Coach Mike Pagliarulo, this team had everything going for them. Experience, the players, and the coaches made this ball club a team Winchester will not forget for years to come.

The softball team came out to play in the spring of '98. With the whole team re-L turning, the Sachems knew they would be a force to be reckoned with. Led by Tri-Captains Lindsey Santini, Lesley Santini and Grace Bloodwell, the Sachems ended the regular season with an impressive 14-6 record. This year was to mark the team's third consecutive tournament showing and the best record ever posted by a Winchester softball team. In tournament play, the Sachems had an outstanding game against a tough Tewksbury team and went on to win 4-3 in the bottom of the ninth. The Sachems' dreams were shattered days later when they were beaten by the team that eventually went on to win the state championship title. Although their hopes of winning it all were cut short, the team of '98 can walk proudly for they gave a tremendous effort. It was a season full of highlights both on and off the field. Times to be remembered are chalk talks, fashion practices, musical bus rides, and of course CHARLIE. Next year the Sachems will be rebuilding, as they will be losing five starting seniors and one gator, but you never know what tri-captains Rachel Capozzi, Al Pini and Grace Bloodwell will have up their sleeve...

The 1999 Winchester Lacrosse Team should do very well this year, led by L Tri-Captains Joe Weeren, Joe Murphy and Ryan Sutton. The Sachems are looking for another Metro North League Crown and bring home Winchester's first State Championship. There is a tremendous amount of talent in the midfield area this year centered around the explosive offense of Joe Weeren, Joe Murphy and Guy Danella. Also contributing to midfield are seniors Mike Lee and Frank Batchelor and juniors Matt Malatesta, Joe Bussichella and Mike Smith. The defense will be led by Doug Halchak, Mike Kuttner, Brad Simas, Phil Barclay and J-Hey Kleshinsky. The Sachems are also returning four attackmen in Brad Frost, Ryan Sutton, Jeff Swanson and Larry Borges, who all proved themselves last year. Alex Pirani will solidify the goal, who split time last year as a sophomore. Coach Pirani is blessed to have so many players back from last year and hopes, with his excellent coaching, he will bring home the State Championship.

his past season was a very exciting one for the girls lax team. With captains Caroline Connolly, Jen Houghton and Jen Fiumara leading the team and with the hard work and dedication of the rest of the girls they made it to the state semi-finals. Luckily the team has 17 returning players, 11 of which are seniors: five attacks, three defenders and two goal keepers, Megan Battinelli and Crystal Maganzini. The captains for the new season, Krista Lombardi, Caitlin Clavette, Meredith Corkery and Katie Keenan are sure to the take the team all the way.

The seniors aren't the only ones who are sure to make our season successful. The team has six juniors returning who are all strong and talented players. With determination from all, and the superb coaching by Sue Ontso the varsity team will take it all the way.

he 1998 WHS saiing team celebrated its reign over the Red Division once again this spring. Due to high toxin levels in the Charles River, we were only allowed a few practices but regularly left the competition in our wake. Our winning record was due to the impressive nautical skills our team: Cap'n Chris "Speed" Stevens, Mike "tic-tac in my pocket" Dacey, Lyndsay "Trixie" Porell, Jessalyn

"get your trash off my lawn" Krauss, Nick "allow me to introduce myself" and/or "KMFDM" Beckmann, Meggie "regulator" Burr, Christina "go-getty" Peretti, and the freshman, Dave "Boo" Boodakian, and Spike "Shotgun" Stevens. Many thanks go to Coach Steve Boodakian for his time, effort and pancakes. You're all just jealous of my jacket, I know it.

he Winchester Field Hockey team is on the up, and we have this season to prove it. With a record of 7-8-3 we scored the most goals, and had the least amount of goals scored against us than in any other season. This was a result of our aggressive defense and our skilled offense.

Our skilled attack was lead by Captain Vanessa Traniello, all-star Co- Captain Kieron Kassner, and senior Alison Pini. Backing up the attack were our "mess you up" mid-fielders, seniors Kara Alesi and Krista Lombardi. Finishing it off was our defensive line lead by all-star Co-Captain Katie Keenan, and senoirs Paige Ambrose and Megan Battinelli.

We will always remember the early morning track workouts, timed two-mile, field day, balls to the head, Charlie, "sex in a bowl", and late night toilet papering. This year we had an unbelievable season and we would like to thank all of our teammates for their hard work, and our fans for their support.

Inis year the Boy's Varsity soccer team posted an outstanding 14-3-1 record, and was successful inwinning an outright Middlesex League Championship, a feat which has not been achieved since 1992. The team was lead this year by co-captians Ryan Sutton and Shane Proch-Wilson. The team's success cannot be attributed to any player or group, but only to the team as a whole. The key to its success was its outstanding depth, which ironically was predicted in the preseason to be the team's weakness. Every player gave one hundred percent on the field at both games and practices.

During the preseason this was deemed a "rebuilder year" by many members of the press. It was nolie that the team had little experience, returning only three starters from the previous year. These starters were Shane Proch-Wilson and Jay Higgins as fullback, and Peter DuPuis in goal. Scott DeLuca, Ryan Hackney, Andres Dinis, and Dave Lynch saw playing time at the forward slot, along with Andrew Clavette, Dave Treen, Eric Marion, and Yushi Uchita. The halfback line was lead by Sutton, Brad Frost and Bill Gallery, along with Mike Lee, Larry Borges, and Jeff Stevens. The fullback line was lead by Proch-Wilson, Higgins, Jeff Swanson, and Chris Zissi, along with Eric Bees, Jared Ahern, and Bill Baldwin, and the goaly was DuPuis, with Colin Pederson at backup.

The team owes a deb t of gratitude to Coach Bouley, and we wish next year's team the best of luck.

squad of 30 young women embarked on a journey to repeat a state title many moons ago--something which had never been done before. Through determination and optimism we were able to reach our goal, despite any barriers. This year was perhaps the most amazing year for the Winchester Girl's Soccer Team. Capturing the tenth consecutive Middlesex League title, the fifth consecutive North title and the second consecutive state title was beyond all of our imaginations. The sachem squad made a name in soccer history and became the #1 ranked team in the nation.

The awards, the honors and all of the recognition we received was exciting. However, it is the friendships we made, the spirit was had, and the passion we played with that was most fulfilling. We were truly one cohesive group, and this chemistry was instrumental to our success.

The team of 1998 thanks our parents, our friends, our fans, and all those who supported us throughout the season. Now fourteen seniors move on, but the memories we shared will never die.

It was great gals.....Passion 98!

heSachem faithful had a succesful campaign in 1998 with several nail biting wins and losses. The season was characterized by gutsy play and a great number of standout performances. DAMAGE, INC. was the theme of the year, as the Sachems gave every ranked team nightmares. The Sachems went 5-4-1, led by tri-captains Doug Halchak, Guy Danella, and Jeremy Carroll.

The first test was the 18th ranked team in the state, Falmouth. The Sachems squeaked out a 35-29 win ending with a goal line stand as the clock ran out. After beating Lexington to make their record 2-0, the next big game was lost by the Sachems to 7th ranked Belmont in the last minute of the game. The Sachems played this game and the next four without Doug Halchak, who was a tremendous loss at both offensive guard and defensive end. The Belmont game was followed by two disappointing losses to Wakefield and Melrose, but the Sachems got back on track to finish with three more wins against Burlington, Watertown, and Stoneham. The season concluded with a thrilling game on Thanksgiving against Woburn. The 107th Turkey Day rivalry resulted in a tie that disappointed players on both teams.

As for standout performances, Guy Danella led all fullbacks in the league with over 600 rushing yards. Danella owes a tremendous amount of thanks to his linemen. On defense, the team was fueled by the fire of seniors Rob Johnson, James Homsey, and Ernie Guarino. Quarterback Jeremy Carroll owes a lot of credit to his linemen and to his standout receivers. The Sachems were also well represented with the all-league selections, with several outstanding players elected to play in the Carole Classic.

Though the Sachems were discontented with a disappointing season, the seniors will leave this year with no regrets. Some may be plagued with thoughts of being a "has-been", but for those who embody the true Sachem spirit, they will remember: It's better to be a 'has-been' than a 'never-has'.

The fall 1998 cheerleading squad was made up of five seniors, Jill LiTores (capt), Catherine Albiani (capt), Erin Forbes, Alex Demarco and Leida Capone, four Juniors and seven sophmores. We started the season with a brand new squad. We worked as a team and all got along. Throughout all of our hard work we pulled off two pep rallies and an excellent exhibition where we got lots of support from our football team. All the students' and cheerleaders' spirit and the football team's hard work at the Thanksgiving Day game paid off. They tied 14-14. The soccer team worked extraordinarily hard this season. They made it to the semifinals of the North division champs. They also won the league. They gave us a lot of support during the season and during the games. Thank you to the boys soccer team and the football team, we couldn't have done it without you.

team, although riddled with violence and controversy, produced an impressive 2-8 record under the guidance of head coach Maloney and with help from the girls' coach, Cantillon. We had a lot of fun this year and we hope the memories live on. We were the first to hit the Fife Brook section and spend the night at Giovanni's. Our dinners, bus rides, Tye-Dye project, and Secret Swimmer are only a few of the activities that brought us closer together. The team was led by Captains Mara Kelly, Kristyn Newhall, and Libby Cobb; and seniors Kiera George and Christina Buchter. The Men's Varsity Swim Team had a killer season ending with an untarnished 5-0 record. With only 9 swimmers, (3 seniors, 1 junior and 5 freshmen) we took the Middlesex League by surprise and destroyed any other team we went up against.

Captains Ryan Carroll, Justin Fisher and Chris Whitaker helped to lead the new freshmen swimmers Paul Masi, Kevin Miskelly, Dave Peritz, Andy Papas and John Holland to many victories. Also, new senior swimmer John McCall-Taylor added to the truly unbelieveable force of the Men's Varsity Swim Team.

Half of our swimmers made sectional and state cuts, while the captains had their personal best times on each and every meet. Coach Julie Mitchell, in her second year of coaching, was a great help in leading us to our Middlesex League Championship and several state records. There wasn't a swimmer in the league that we couldn't defeat.

But the winning season was not the only highlight this year. Who could forget the duke and a puke, early a.m. rides, breakfasts at Papa's, polo games and JMT's harmonica? Hopefully next year the winning streak will continue. Will the antics ever cease?

inchester Hockey wins State Championship. Who would have thought that would ever have been possible? Four years found Winchester move from its home in the basement of the Middlesex League to the top of the Division 1 hockey world. This year is no exception.

Quad captains Justin Barauskus, Matt Spang, Brad Frost and J.A. Koslowski were waiting to answer those who thought the Sachems were headed for a let down season. But it was full of young talent. Mike Byford added depth and experience. The Seniors heard that this was to be a learning year, and most of the league thought so as well. The captains would hear none of it. Their drive and determination pushed the team to be nothing but the best. To settle for nothing but perfection.

All in all, this Sachem team refused to fall into the theory that they were supposed to be a failure, that they were supposed to be less than perfect. They didn't back down, and made it to the tournament. They knew they could do it, and now the rest of the Massachusetts Division 1 hockey world knows Winchester is here for good.

The Varsity boys basketball team had an incredible season with a record of 15 - 5. Their supreme motivation and outstanding talent led them to finish second in the league, clinching them a home game for the start of the tournament. The powerful Sachems were led by seven returning seniors accompanied by a powerful group of juniors who played a key role in the team's success. The team was led by cocaptains Chad Carroll and Joe Werren. senior starters had a combination of height and determination which made the Sachem offense practically unstoppable. Joe Werren led the team in scoring and finished fourth in the league MVP voting. Chad Carroll was always there when the team needed him the most. Brian Curry was a big man in the middle who really developed his offensive game over the season. Coming through an unbelievable second half of the season was Dave Lindmark with his unselfish style of play. Brian Curry, Chad Carroll, and Joe Werren were so impressive that they were chosen to play in the Middlesex league all star game. The Sachems didn't let their last minute loss to the number one ranked Belmont phase them and ended the season with a great record and many memories to go with it.

lthough this year's women's basketball squad did not have a winning record, the season was a success. Every game and practice the girls worked extremely hard, while also having fun. The creative blend of personalities allowed for great team chemistry both on and off the court. Moments to be remembered are pre-game practice color days, the roaring fans, the gina, zapatoes, the great Cookie debate and Mr. 'Green.' But most of all, the bball girls should remember that they played with HEART, and never gave up.

ard work and high spirits is what got the WHS Gymnastics team through a successful season and final record of 5-4. Pulling together with a team of only 11, the gymnasts were able to gain wins against teams they haven't beaten in years. Led by tri-captains Keira George, Lauren Peritz and Avry Thompson, WHS gymnasts had their best performances on each event!

Outstanding newcomer, senior and captain Keira George helped carry the team through many of their wins with her all around scores and ended up qualifying for states on the beam. Fellow captains Lauren Peritz and Avry Thompson got their best scores in all four events and were essential to the team's success. Juniors Jaime Bourque, Carlotta Cubi and Amanda Wamsher were a dynamic trio whose scores helped in all the events. Sophomore and newcomer Julie Castignetti used her cheering skills to become a top scorer in beam and floor. Sophomore Nicole Christowski had strong performances throughout the year on bars, beam, and vault while Kristen Kenny kept the team in high spirits and helped the team out on vault. All-Arounder Stacy Proch-Wilson was a vital part of the team with her high scores that proved to qualify her for states on floor. Freshman Taylor Howe was an important new addition to the team with her rountines on the bars, floor and vault. Overall it was an exciting and successfull season! Good luck to next year's team.

he 1999 wrestling season at WHS was different from previous years. The team this year was comprised mostly of freshmen and sophomores, with fewer juniors and seniors than usual. Captains James Homsey and Kofi Sarkodie Mensah proved throughout the season to have excellent leadership qualities as they helped lead their team to a 16-0 finish. The support offered by Coach Tremblay, Coach Mike Sullivan, and enthusiastic parents was also phenomenal.

With an undefeated season, the wrestling team had many outstanding accomplishments. Capt. Kofi Sarkodie Mensah, a senior, won the Middlesex League Tournament and was also a Lowell Holiday Finalist. Rob Nagle, a junior, was a League Champ and took part in the Wilmington Tournament. Other notable wrestlers were seniors James Homsey, P.J. Kennedy; juniors Anthony Scropshire, Phil Fratteroli and Alex Pirani; sophomores Eric Bees, Eric Reed White, Jason Suslavich, and Tom Flemming; and freshman Steve Gregory.

This season was also recognized because of the successes that Coach Tremblay achieved. The win over Nashua was a great accomplishment. Not only was it another success for the team, but it was Coach Tremblay's 300th career win, which placed him in an elite group of coaches in the state.

The WHS wrestlers have been able to hold onto the League Title since 1993, and with an undefeated season, they continue to keep their place. Having lost many upper classmen last year, the majority of the wrestlers this year were underclassmen. This called for a rebuilding year, one in which many would be starting at the beginning. That ultimately made the 16-0 finish even more incredible.

he Men's Winter Varsity Track team had a killer season, ending with the Middlesex League Championship. They killed Woburn and slaughtered Reading, what more could you ask for? Captains Jared Ahern, Matt Killion and Eric Schrock led the way for our undefeated season. Kinda...

Coach Kline and, new this year, Coach "Iron Man" Miserendino (replacing Marty "The One Man Party" Barrett) were great coaches this season. They put up with a lot and let us in on their astounding knowledge of the sport. The team was led by Jared "Ahern", with Kwong in the duce, Matt "Big Red" Killion in the dash, Eric "The Total Package" Schrock in the 4 mile crawl, Yuan "Marley Man" Newton in the Hurdles, Kenny "Stretch" Kwong in the Limbo, David "The Original Stiff" Treen in the 1000m, Steve "Sunny" Wong in the discus, Stan "KGB" Drozdetski in the 4x4, John "Jumper" Nakamoto in the high jump, Nick "Sick Form" Bushnell in the mile, Mike "El Presidente" Dacey in the 300m and Jeff "Ripped" Stevens in the 200m.

Look out next year for Henry "Tank" Kwong, Bill "Pink Slippers" Gallery, Marc "Yo-Vinay" Iovine, Dave "People's Elbow" Maggio, Ian "Lil' Heather" Ballentyne, Mike "Chatterbox" Guerin, Ethan "Hunt" Wilson, Alex "......" The girls indoor track team had a season full of improvement and personal records. The team was small but solid. We had some very talented freshmen come join this year, one being Kirsten Nagel. As a freshman she tied many records and set some of her own. She also qualified for the state meet. She, Kieron Kassner, Amanda Blaine, Lauren Sciascia, and Jackie Chamberland all qualified in the 4 x 800 Relay. Everyone on the team put in their best effort and set many personal records. Art

David Ardito

Not only is Mr. Ardito the head of the Art Department, he also teaches the art segment of Humanities..

Mr. Gillis is a new member of the art department this year. He teaches photography, and he loves it!

Robert Gillis

Jennifer Levitino

a new teacher who is sure to bring something special to her students.

In midyear the Art Department gained

Ms. Maserians' favorite quote is "Fill in the whole page". She pushes you to really open your eyes and expand your ideas.

Marguerite Maserian

Mary Ott

Ms. Ott, always a favorite teacher at WHS, moved to Florida to start a new life. We miss her, though rumor has it she may return uring the first semester Mrs. Ott and Ms Maserians' classes took a field trip to Boston to see the works of Monet at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, as well as a few other museums. It was great to get out and see the artists' works first hand. The artwork was beautiful and the architecture breathtaking. This field trip was different from others because it was so relaxed and the teachers made sure we were all having fun while learning.

Art is the kind of class that you will look forward to going to during the day. The atmosphere is friendly and laid back, and it provides an opportunity to meet all different types of people. The teachers are more than willing to give one on one attention and are always there when you need help. It's the perfect way to expand your mind and add something new to your schedule.

Band

his year's marching band was a huge success considering the number of freshmen. We even had a flag corps for the first time in many years. Ms. Miller headed up the marching band as always, although this year Leslie Kuy and "Heather" Ducey are the new Drum Majors.

When not marching, this group of students makes up the WHS concert band. They will be taking a trip into New York city to perform a concert in Lincoln Center. All of the members are very excited to go because this is the first trip these musicians will have gone on in four years.

The last breakdown of the bands is the Jazz Band. This year is definitely the most promising year the Jazz has had in many years, both because of the huge amount of talent that is present in this group and also because of the large number of concerts they are performing in. The biggest event is their fund raiser dance that occurred early in May, like the first year it was a huge success, in fact it is even more popular as word has spread.

The Jazz Band is going to miss many seniors after this year is over, these include: Nator Lynch, Loppy Carroll, Davis Cavalier, Justin Fisher, Kofi Sarkodie-Mensah, Shane Proch-Wilson, Colin Simpson, Ben Scharf, Adam Richter, Dave Lerman, Eric Schrock, Mike Dacey, and John McCall-Taylor. As said by one of the seniors, "The only thing I won't miss is Dave."

his year's orchestra has grown significantly since last year. With so many seniors graduating, the underclassmen were anxious to see what the new year would bring. Luckily for us, we have a talented freshmen class in the orchestra.

We have taken a few trips this year. The first trip was to Symphony Hall where we saw the Boston Symphony Orchestra perform an incredible program. Our second trip was our annual tour of the elementary schools which met with great success. Our last, and best trip was our tour of France. The orchestra, along with the Lincoln-Sudbury Orchestra played both in Paris and in St. Germain. Under the conducting of Dr. John McCann and Nick Costello, the orchestra performed wonderfully. Addie and Benjamin McCann were a wonderful addition to the trip, as they brought smiles to all. The orchestra would like to thank Dr. McCann for recycled jokes, pizza and eternal silence. We're going to miss you next year and we wish you luck.

Chorus/Octets

This year the WHS chorus has greatly expanded. With about 40 new freshmen voices, the number of singers has become ninety. The music department's winter concert included the chorus which sang a selection of acapella and accompanied pieces. It was successful and everyone sounded great. The Strawberry Pops concert in May was a great success with the chorus and the octets singing many popular songs. Unlike many past years, the weather was great and many parents and others flocked to hear the melodies provided by the music groups. Unlike last year, the chorus sang in the Young Performer's Concert in February. They sang "Song of Democracy", a poem by Walt Whitman put to fabulous music. The orchestra played with the chorus to add to the piece. The money raised by the Young Performer's Concert is used to award music scholarships to Winchester High School students involved in the music program. Last year's concert money was used for scholarships this year. This year's scholarships are given to Elizabeth Eiler for voice and Lara Anderson for violin, sax, and voice. They were each awarded $400.

The octets are a selected group of talented guys and girls who sing music arranged acapella. They are singing a few new songs this year including "Iris", by the Goo Goo Dolls, "Man in the Mirror", by Michael Jackson and "The Letter", which is back from three years ago. The group is separated into guys and girls, but this year there are many more combined songs. The octets are performing at parties and are performing at a fall acapella fest and another in the spring.

Drama

Following "Tartuffe" was a shorter drama called "Laundry and Bourbon." It featured only three female performers who had smaller roles in the previous play: Lily Ladewig, Heather Ogilvy, and Brigid Ducey. They each did a marvelous job in portraying the conflicts of a Southern woman by coming together as three completely different personalities to converse.

Brian Milauskas is presently the director of the dramas, as well as the spring musicals. According to the cast members, he commands the respect from each of his crew. Brian not only conducts the entire production, but he also makes the set, oversees the lighting, blocking, and choreography. Three years ago, his production of "Taming of the Shrew" became a semifinalist in the Massachusetts Drama Guild Drama Fest.

The cast of this year's fall drama was amazing, featuring Dave Tucker, Dave Lerman, Julie Castignetti, Josh Meyers, Emily Holleran, Anthony Carrigan, Karen Marmon, Andy Pappas, Natty Lawton, Brigid Ducey, Lily Ladewig, and Heather Ogilvy. Their hours of hard work in rehearsal, however annoying and time consuming, brought the group incredibly close. "Tartuffe" was a comical drama about the effects of the fraudulent Tartuffe on a family where everyone but the father understood his deceptive character. He manipulated and abused the father's incessant kindness, attempted to steal the family's estate, and even to steal his suspicious wife. Those who came were lucky to enjoy an amazing show.

Musical

his year's musical was another resounding success for the cast, pit and crew under director Brian Milasukas. "Children of Eden" was two touching stories about families, and what they go through as children grow up, and traditions are outgrown. The story follows roughly the biblical equivalent, and contains timeless messages about love, parenting and growing up. Outstanding farewell performances from seniors Dave Lerman, Colin Simson and Caitlin Butler complemented the incredible cast of all grades, including junior Liz Drummond, and freshman Andy Pappas.

This year's play was especially intriguing due to the fact that there was so much dancing in it, which, along with the volume of good music, really enhanced the show. If you missed it, you missed a great show.

The challenging music was performed beautifully by the pit orchestra, directed by Priscilla Miller. The crew also did a fantastic job on lighting and sound, as well as Molly Christian's incredible rendition of Michealangelo's Creation as a backdrop.

Like all the musicals before it, this one will be remembered fondly by audience members and participants alike, and neither will ever be able to get the music out of their heads.

Pit Orchestra / Tech Crew

his year, the pit has given a new twist to the musical. The Children of Eden has broken the mold of the typical orchestra. This year's orchestra is comprised of Eric Schrock, Andy Leiserson and Alysson Nolan on keyboard, Leslie Kuy on flute and recorder, Allison Scheer on oboe and recorder, Greg "Frere" Leiserson on clarinet and tenor sax, Mike Casserly on clarinet and alto sax, Lara Anderson on tenor sax and cello, Sarah Van de Velde on cello, John McCall-Taylor on guitar, Eric Marian on bass and Ben Scharf, Chris Whitaker, Eric Doob, Chad Hochberg and Ricker on percussion. It's all thanks to Ms. Miller and we want her to know how much we appreciate her help. We couldn't do it without her. As long as you have the ability to yell out "Measure!" she'll keep you in the right spot. SIT UP STRAIGHT FRERE!!!

As for the stage crew, Mike Dacey was handling the sound, and Dan Hayes was on the lights, with Ryan Brown, Molly Christian, and Lindsay Porell on spot. Also, Julie Castignetti and Lauren Pallotta were helping out backstage. We got to lift heavy stuff, and there was a certain amount of free food. Also of note were the amazing hands painted on the wall by Molly Christian. We'd all like to thank the force of electricity for making our gadgets run, as well as the cast of Children of Eden for carrying all that wood. Thanks, guys.

Musicfest

s expected, this year's MusicFest was a tremendous success. There were many very talented performers who played or sang music from a wide variety of genres. One of the most notable bands was the Aberjona Rhythm Section featuring P. Ratner and the Space Monkey Horns. This band featured eight talented artists, although the full lineup is too long to enumerate here. There were many solo acts accompanying the bands, including Rachel and Allison Criscitiello with a guitar duet.

The lineup of bands was completed by the Electric Psychedelic Pussycat Swingers Club, Highway 61, and Live Strippers. The solo and small group performers included Mr. Skinder, Mr. B-C, Alison Gates, Caitlin Butler, Liz Drummond, Dave Lerman, Laurie Graham, Maggie Sadowski, Helen Roby, and Cindy Leigh Russo.

For some variety, there was an excellent rap performance by Laura Burke, Colin Simson, and his band. In the lighting booth, Dan Hayes did an excellent job providing rocking flashy effects to accompany the performances. Congrats to Dan for his proficient usage of antiquated equipment.

Well, these were a great few years. There are so many people to talk about, but no space to do so. But just to mention a few: Kenny & Henry- I think I should get a key still! And we should bike some more, and play with our many toys. Dave S- NO MORE DANCES, you track quitter. Dave T- Shes standing by the door again! Chris-Dont hurt yourself. Alycia- "Great minds" think alike! Well, anyways, whomever reads this, I probably should have mentioned you too. I'll miss all you guys and gals, even some coaches and teachers! People better call me, or you'll be in deep trouble! And remember- "If everyone's thinking alike, then someone isn't thinking!" -JCA

These last 4 years at WHS has been the most hectic time of my life. So many people so little time. For those of you that are still in WHS relax and take things in stride, because the "real word" hasn't hit you yet. "P"-we have grown since freshman year SO much. what would I have done w/out you. 6years 6,000 stories. "Da"- You have taught me lots of life lessons that you weren't even aware of. Joe B.- "thank you" Liz C.-You've been my best friend for the longest, and you know me the best, so... I love you! Sarah-This summer I'll kidnap you to FINALLY spend time w/you. "ABC"- You guys kick ass, Horace I will always remember you, Yuan never loose your spirit. Dan N.-I'm sorry things didn't work out as planned. I'll still marry you. You are my !st love and I hope that Sarah Mclachan will never mean as much to you. remember the jimmy and all our fun times, I love you. Cheerleaders- our car is the best. Have fun next year, don't let Sully get to you. Amy-You make me laugh at any possible moment. I'll miss you more then anything. Don't get in trouble w/out "P" and I. Bill G.-Thanks for making me happy. Family-I wouldn't be anywhere without you guys. Thanks for everything. Maggs keep your smile. Ben/Paul it seems that you guys aged and I stayed the same, I guess I got older too, but never realized it. Mom and Dad there isn't much to say, you have done an outstanding job I love you! Jenn we both made it. I'm more proud of you then of anyone I've ever met. Your my hero, live strong. ("held in their" (WSTC) I love you all.

Catherine- You're one of my very best friends and I'll always love you. We've had the greatest fun with everything we did together, most of it got us in trouble with our parents or... raise your right hand. Thanks for always being there and listening to my issues with "Night and Day". Your analogies always helped. I would've never made it without you. I need you forever. Lizzie- My love, we always had the most interesting summers, I can't believe we made it through. Sorry to get you in trouble at Tusts. Does your mommy have a sensor on the car? A is for apple. You're the sweetest person I know. I wish I could be more like you. I'll always be there for you, you can't get rid of me. Sarah- We can always party together. You're the best You'll always do erazy things like me. Thanks for understanding me and driving me around. I'll never forget the beach, kittery, you shopaholic, Ymca will we ever quit? Bentley what happened? Nick? Hurry get the flashlight we're going around the back. Thanks for being there and making me laugh. I love You. Yoni-Thanks for always giving me advice about my situations. You're my phycologist. You always came on my wild rides to Tufts, B.C. Houston. Keep your head up and be happy, it can always be worse. Meredith- I love you babe. You're the funniest girl I know. Easy easy. Damian-It's been three years. Thanks for always believing in me. I hope to know you forever. Love you. Joey- You always know what I'm going through. You're crazier then me. Thanks for listening to me. Love you. Liz- We always seem to have the same problems. Thanks for being understanding. We've had the best conversations on the phone. We know what's going on in the world. Always keep in touch. Dave- Who knew we'd end up together. I've never been happier. You're my baby and I know we'll make it. Mom and Dad-thanks for dealing with me llove you with all my heart. Leonie and Georges-Good luck.

Paige has the biggest heart of any person we know. She has amazing qualities as an achiever, athlete, artist and actress. She is also lovable and caring, which makes her such a well-rounded person.

Paige has always been an achiever in school by working as hard as she can in all her classes. Paige has taken many challenging courses such as Honors Humanities. She is also an athlete, having played on the Varsity Field Hockey team for four years as well as helping out as manager of the the girls Lacrosse team. Along with her athletic abilities, she is an artist. With her talents and creativity, she has excelled in Advanced Art and shows her talent through paintings and drawings. In her spare time she enjoys participating in the school plays. She has been seen in "Anything Goes" when she was a sophomore and "City of Angels" as a junior where she showed her musical talent in singing.

Paige is someone we all look up to. She is caring, friendly, sensitive, and has a great sense of humor. Paige is a girl you can turn to and trust, a great person, and the best friend anyone could ever have.

I can't believe four years could go by so quickly. Thanks to everyone for all of the good times (in no particular order). Jeff-Spanish sophomore year was the best class I've ever had. Philly over KC in Tecmo any day. Dan- Football every Saturday on your front lawn. My arm's still sore. Pete-Nothing will ever beat Miller Shop. You're the bandsaw master; Hayden better watch out for the surface planer. Kelly- Working the snack bar was fun. How much salad do you have left? Jeff-"Oh man, here comes Bartov." We gotta give Rasheed a call some time. Lauren- Thanks for teaching me how to play uno. Shane- Someday I will beat you in bowling. Lee- Thanks for the parties freshman year. Matt-"What's the homework?" Summers were cool. "Not my bebop!" Kristyn- Thanks for helping me clean up. James- You are the funniest kid I know, no one can tell a better story. Mike-Gotta love your choice of music. I can always trust you with the radio. Jon-Don Ho? We gotta take out the potato gun again sometime. Kelly- I still miss our study halls. Lauren-Little early for the soccer ball freshman year. Andreas-Lets make a Villa run. 21 never again. Doug- We've done so much together over the years; I've known you my whole life. Good luck in whatever you do. To anyone who I didn't mention, thanks just the same. Thanks to all of my basketball and soccer teammates for all the winning seasons, except freshman basketball (Chase!). I can't believe we all fouled out against tech and only lost by one. Three goals in under ten against Lexington in the rain was the best comeback. Fastest four years of my life, but I'll never forget them. Thanks to everyone, and good luck.

Trace is best described simply by her name. She has been a virtue to Winchester High School, establishing herself as a role-model student athlete and leader. Grace is one of the top scholars in her class. She is an inquisitive learner and an extremely conscientious student. She has received many academic awards, including National Honor Society status. Her athletic abilities are on par with her academics, as well. Grace is a standout soccer, basketball, and softball player. She posesses abilities unparalleled by any other female athlete at the High School. However, her greatest contribution to these teams has been her leadership, as she was a tri-captain. Whether her team was winning or losing she was always a source of optimism. She continually demonstrates the "we over me" attitude. Grace is a strong, selfless and supportive leader. Thus, she is also president of student council.

Grace is an outstanding achiever, but what really separates her from others is her unassuming, down to earth attitude. Although deserving, she seldom looks for praise. She is also characterized by her great sense of humor. Grace is always making someone laugh. She jokes about everyone and everything. She truly has a great perspective on life. Whether playing on the field with her teammates, or in the back yard with her dog Muffin, she is always spreading happiness. She enjoys every day of life and makes others enjoy it too. As her teammate and friend I have been fortunate enough to have been touched by her.

I know she will have a great impact on many others in the future. By Caitlin Butler

A Friend is a Gift Whose Worth Cannot be Measured Except by the Heart. Danielle: From the first day of high school, we were tight. We know each other really well. I can't imagine what high school would have been like without you. Our job, skiing, we share it all. TGIF, anyone? Will you write in my yearbook this year? Red skittles will always remind me of you. Kirsten: You were the bad one, I was the innocent one. Thank for all the little things you do (and the big things), and also for the gossip. To glow bowling and our lists. Remember the Boat Club. Omi: You are really crazy, but I love you the way you are. You have always been there to listen to me and make me laugh. Tony: Physics labs partners; we were the best. From Lynch to high school, we finally made it. Love ya always. Matt: Thanx for making classes fun these past two years. Always remember your daily source of beef fat. Nate: Always the life of the party. See you at Stop&Shop. Katie: Through everything, we have made it, all the way from Lynch. I hope we will always be friends. Cindy: You have always been so great to talk to, especially when I need to be cheered up. Dominic. Keep on being a math genius. Paul: My Spanish dictionary. Christina P.: I leave you the swim team. It's great as a senior. You are an awesome swimmer. Keep it up! To all of you and all of my other friends, thank for the memories and making high school fun. I hope we all keep in touch Mom: You have been my guiding light throughout my life. You have always been there for me, no matter what You have always wanted me to have the best, and have made enormous sacrifices for me, which I don't always appreciate I don't know how lucky I am. Thank you. I love you.

aitlin is in a league of her own. There are very few people as accomplished or talented as she. I am always amazed at her determination and sincerity. Her "passions" are numerous and her successes are abundant. Whether in the classroom, on the field, or in center stage she always seems to shine.

As an athlete she has definitely left her mark at Winchester High School. She has been an active contributor to three state champion soccer teams. During the the fall of her senior year she was awarded as an All-American soccer player after being ranked the number one player in Eastern Mass. Her athletic ability does not lie with soccer alone. She holds the school record in the 300 meters and is a member of the three time state champion tennis team.

Caitlin will be greatly missed next year by the music department. She is an integral part of the orchestra, chorus and is a captain for the well renowned a Capella group "The Octets." She has has a principal role in "Once on this Island", "Anything Goes" and "City of Angels." Caitlin is also a pivotal leader throughout the school. She is the secretary for the Nation Honors Society, has been a class officer the past three years, and a member of the student union. On top of all this she has juggled AP classes in an already rigorous schedule.

Besides being extremely successful she is also a wonderful person. She is a giver, listener and a great friend. It is head to imagine high school without her. Her commitment and talent will lead her anywhere, all she has to do is dream. Caitlin - I wish you By Mara Kelly the best of luck.

Jeremy Caroll

Reffered to jokingly as "Chaddy Superstar" by his friends, Jeremy has truly lived up to this image. Jeremy has excelled athletically throughout his high school career. Jeremy embodies the quintessential student athlete at WHS.

Jeremy has an unspoken strength that everyone in the high school has come to recognize and respect. This strength has been honored through Jeremy's elections as Captain of the football and basketball teams. He also serves as an outstanding leader and performer on the Varsity baseball team. He is truly one of the best all around athletes to come through Winchester High. But Jeremy's leadership is not confined to the playing field, for his fellow classmates have also honored him through his repeated election as a class officer.

Jeremy has established himself as a true role model. He never changes who he is or what he believes in. Even if that means growing his hair to disgusting lengths! In recent years, Jeremy has faced a lot of adversity, but through the struggle he is seemingly stronger than ever. I have never met a more courageous person. No one deserves his success more than Jeremy does.

Anytime one of his friends has needed him; Jeremy has been there. He fulfills the true meaning of friendship. Jeremy is always quick to offer his honest opinion on any issue, or to make a witty remark. He loves to laugh and create a good time. Once his sense of humor kicks in, it is impossible to stop him. He honestly can make you laugh at anything.

Jeremy is my teammate for two seasons, but he is my best friend all of the time. He challenges those around him to be satisfied with nothing less than their best. He has taught us all so much without even knowing it. For this, Jeremy, I thank you."My best friends are my teammates. My teammates are my best friends." (Andy Sullivan '96) rom class president, to musician, to skatepark creator, to the guy with the curly ponytail, Mike Dacey is known by everyone because of his multi-faceted personality.

At the end of last year we elected Mike to be our senior class president because we believed it was time for a change, and he was the person who could provide a new perspective. His experience as a leader extends into the community. He was the main facilitator in getting the town to okay a skatepark so that other people could share his passion for skateboarding. Mike is also an active member of his church youth group.

One of Mike's talents is his musical ability. He is a member of the jazz band, marching band, the chorus, and the Octets. He has also been in a number of high school bands on his own time. Can you think of anything that goes better with music than running? Of course not! Mike is also a member of the cross country and winter track teams. He is one of the few, the proud, and the strong members of the WHS sailing team. Mike also works behind the scenes of the musicals to make sure everything runs smoothly.

In addition to all of this, Mike still makes time for his friends. He is always willing to lend a helping hand (or wheelbarrow) to a friend, even at 2 a.m. Mike is the kind of person who understands what you mean before you can explain it. He is a great person to turn to if you ever need someone to listen. You can rely on him to be a quiet listener or to give excellent advice if you need it.

All of these things put together make Mike the person that he is. I am truly thankful he has been a part of my life, and I wish him luck in whatever he chooses to do. I know he'll be successful. After all, in the words of a wise friend, "Mike D. is all that, and a bag of Air Crisps."

hen someone says the name Dave Lerman, many people think of the musician, the actor, or the brilliant student. However, to those of us who know him, his name means so much more.

At first glance you see a talented musician a member if the concert, marching, and jazz bands, the chorus, and the octets. He has contributed to those groups not just by participating but by being a leader, teaching, and arranging songs. On his own time, Dave has composed a number of original symphonies and attended Berkeley Music School. As an actor, Dave has been the star of almost every play he has been in at WHS. He has an incredible stage presence that is the highlight of any performance. He has also used his talent to help younger children develop their acting skills by working with the Winchester Cooperative Theatre for many years. Dave's involvement in the community goes far beyond just music and drama. He is very involved with the youth group at his church and is also a member of Spectrum. In addition to all of this, Dave is also a member of the National Honor Society and was chosen as one of the four National Merit Scholarship Semi-finalists in our senior class.

Aside from all of this, I believe what Dave truly excels in is friendship. He is someone you can talk to whenever you need him about whatever you want. He is very fun to be around, and his presence can really brighten any room. Dave has made a great impact on my life and the lives of everyone else who knows him. I wish him luck next year and in the years to come. I know he will be successful in whatever he chooses to do.

"The best preparation for tomorrow is doing your best today."

I never realized how many friends I've had since freshmen year. I'll try not to forget anyone. Swany, there are just too many things to remember, the tour, summer soccer sessions at manchester, trip to Bently, oreo bars, x-mas party 96, the never ending ride to Wakefield, Clemson 98, watch out for Jimmy Lomar. M ike, ultimate, baywatch double sessions, ski pics, 128 to Swiggas, 26 minute ride home, big black kahoona, cd runs, lazy high world cup 98, fleece shirt. Shane, thanks for the pass - your a has been, boy meets world, lets drive to Maynard, LUST 98. Lee & Amanda you could learn things in my old basement. Sutton maybe you should try shooting from outside the six. Frosty - best goalie at Clemson? Yeah maybe, it was Duane. Higgins, the only one to receive phone calls at Clemson, thats respect. Danny, nice shorts. Kristin, get a watch. Swigga, thanks for the puffy ticket. paige, nice shoes, who picked them out? Where did dark wing go anyway? Kelly, I'm glad that we decided not to go our whole four years of high school without talking. It's hard to imagine what my last to years of high school would have been like without you. Thanks for being the best friend I've ever had. Mom, Dad, Ryan, and Casey, thanks for putting up with me. Maybe after a while you might miss me.

I've had many great times at with but I've had many great times at with but I'm glad it's over I'll miss a lot of things, mostly Jazz Band. Miss Miller you've had a great impact on my like. Miss Alvarez you've influenced me also it's because of you that I stayed with spanish. Thank you Tania T. + (olin, you've always been their for me, I you both so mucho Loppy, Pascaale, Veni, Mire P., Mar, Dave, will, John you've been great friends. Dad you helped me get by Mom & Bill It wasn't so tough. Is I talways remember walden, someone theep the tradition going.

The thing that puts the smile on my face each morning is seeing my best friend Tanja plow through the hallways with her huge pants, leopard skin bag, cup of Dunkin' Donuts coffee, and huge smile. Seeing her among crowds of kids from our school makes her really stand out, and it's like a breath of fresh air. As anyone who knows her will tell you, she has never been afraid to show her true colors and has never tried to hide who she is. She refuses to compromise who she is for anyone, and because of this she is an extremely free person. She shows this in everything from her dressing style to the long peices of tape with random sayings that she covers herself and others with.

Tanja has a wonderful, twisted sense of humor—she'll laugh at everything from googly eyes on a cake to words like "squid" which strike her in a funny way for no apparent reason. She'll lightly make fun of herself as well as others which makes her very easy to talk to. She's open about her own problems and will also be a non-judgmental listener to others. I admire the way she looks for the best in those around her, and will only believe about others what she sees herself.

She has made the past seven years of my life really fun simply by being herself. She's always been someone to confide in, someone to sit on the floor in random places with, someone to celebrate Mardi Gras with, and someone to appreciate the simple pleasures of life with whether they be hot chocolate or finger-painting.

Her incredible strength in overcoming personal obstacles amazes me constantly. I'm convinced that she can do anything she wants to do badly enough. No matter what she may choose for herself, she'll never change who she is and will always make it a pleasure for others to be around her.

I can't believe it's all over. Four years can go by so quickly. There's so many people who need recognition in this teeny little box. Pete- Although you don't go to WHS, you've still been the biggest influence in my life through high school. Thanks a lot. Matt- Oh poop. You're a great friend. Keep in touch. Rob- You're a nut. Nate- I hope your teachers enjoy your presence in college just as much as the teachers here at WHS did. Dom- Glad you finally got your license, good luck. Tina and Fiona- Good luck to my art buddies! Mr. and Mrs. Thorne- Thank you for all the fun and laughs. Thanks to you I know what I want to do with myself. Mrs. Cronan- Thanks to you, English isn't so bad!

To anyone who I forgot, I'm sorry. There are SO many people who have affected me. To anyone who has made me laugh, sat at lunch, had a good conversation with me, and to all my teachers who taught me well... thanks, I won't forget you.

Good by WHS. I can't believe I'm finally leaving. It's been fun.

Good luck WHS class of 1999!!

Then most people think of Eric Schrock, they think of him simply as "that really tall smart kid". Everyone seems to have the perception that he's like one of those coldly brilliant talking brains contained in a jar of formaldehyde in an old Sci-Fi movie. The fact is, everyone with this perception of Eric is dead wrong. Although he is one of the best dstudents ever to attend WHS, he is also one of the best people to ever have traveled down its hallowed orange hallways.

The common perception of Eric as a student who excels at everything he does is right on the money. I've never seen Eric fail at anything. Whether it's schoolwork, art, music, recording, or even Scrabble, Eric never ceases to amaze me with his ability to succeed in everything he attempts.

Although some people think of Eric Schrock as nothing more than a mind, I can testify that his heart is much larger than his brain. Eric is a refreshing reminder that there are still people who can be individuals yet have no problem whatsoever relating to others. He is also one of the most candid people that I've ever had the privilege of knowing. Any time that I have ever experienced a problem, Eric has always been there to listen to me and try to help me through it. I find Eric's camaraderie to be his most redeeming quality.

Eric Schrock is one of the most amazing individuals I've ever come across. Many years down the road, I know I'll be able to look back on my experience at WHS and be able to remember Eric for the brilliant mind and heart that he showed to us all. by Dave Nailling

I'd like to use these 12 square inches to leave something behind to anyone who owns a '99 yearbook. It's been fun, well most of it, well some of it. I'd like to thank Mr. Thorne, Mr. Smith, Mr. Gouller, and Mrs. Oll, you guys made these four years bearable. As for friends, there's not enough room to list you guys; but if you're reading this, you're probably someone I want to say goodbye to. There's just enough room left for my bit of advice to you:

The are to challenge, dare to conform,

Choose was a continue.

Kenny Kwong,

What to say. So many hours I've spent in this school. There were fun moments. To my best friend Dave Swartz and my resident alien Jared Ahern, I'll keep in touch. With the rest of my cohorts of the lunch table, I won't soon forget the many interesting conversations we had. Dom, I'll see you around. I know you'll send E-mail. To my mentors: Mr. Kline, Thanks for pushing me during track, even though I wasn't able to finish most of the workouts; Mr. Smith, I'm sure the duck is in good protection; Mrs. Hession, Drama was the most fun English class I have ever had, and to the unfortunately dismissed Mr. Coulter, He taught chemistry in fun new ways. Jared, the bike trips were fun. We need to do more. Maybe you'll just stay over to my house, get some spare drawers for your clothes, maybe a room? If we don't go to the same college, we'll figure out what to do with the Playstation. We need more games. FFVIII? Dave S., Have fun in GW or where ever you're going... Don't get lost. We'll meet back here. Don't get arrested with your Pandora's Box. You and Rob S. Karim. You know I'm a contender at GT. Dave N., Matt Von M., Atsushi, & Eric M. If you ever get famous, I want free paraphernalia. Chris S. I'll see you when I visit for vacation. You'll only be at BU. Iovine I leave Winter Track Hurdling to you when I graduate. As for spring, ask Schrock. Eric S. We'll have a "family reunion" sometime with "mom". Eva I'll miss you and Ariel. Thanks for the chocolate and the rides home when I needed them. To those I have few words for, I'll mention you. Paul L., Loppy, Treen, Meredith G., Stan, Steve, Will L, Tony, Matt K., Billy, Jason, Nick B. and everyone else I didn't mention. You know I talk to you but I have no parting words of wisdom for you. Just have fun, be safe, and enjoy life outside of Winchester. I'll see you around vacation time. We've had our moments and our breaks, but you've always been one of my best friends. Cate Why didn't we become friends sooner? We have so much in common, I'm just so grateful that we discovered that."Whyy waste yo time, you know you gon'ta be mine.. Katte K. You were my first friend, and have we ever been in a fight? I can't say that we're inseparable, I've missed you for the past couple of years, but our friendship has never changed. Thank you Jamte Want to talk about our boyfnends? You're one of the few who understood (Vanessa) Grace" I don't know much, but I know I love you, and that may be all I need to know "Ryan thata boy sutton, sorry if I've scared you We did win the war Mara You're always great to talk to, no matter how infrequently we do. Shannon Why are you such a hard ass?" Hey guys, I'm in", do you remember? Lauren P. Wanna jitterbug? Jenny All I have to say, drivin on the sidewalk Pini I do miss Taco (It happens) Soccer fans of the century, yeah baby Megan You're really cool and I wanted you in my blurb, so you're in Vanessa Rob and Jason kick ass, thanks for understanding what I was going through. Mike Do you mind if I stop by? What's a stalker? Shane Whatever you do, don't touch me. Caltlin M Just saying hi to my american friend! Justin You truly are the biggidy bomb Thank you so much for making my life wonderful for the past two years, I don't know what I ever did without you."I love you like the stars above, I'm going to love you until I die" (why mess with the quote, it's true). I can't wait. "But in my spirit I will dwell/And dream my dream and hold it true;/For tho' my lips may breathe okay...now there's no way i can possibly say something to everyone individually, i simply don't have enough room, so i'll just ramble instead....wow, four years, it's hard to believe that it's finally here, it was a lot of hard work, but i finally made it....i need to thank my family: mom, dad, claire, and diane, you guys have done so much for me, i can't hope to repay you, but i'll try...it's been a huge journey for me, i know i've come a long way, especially personally...these have been some of the best years of my life, and I couldn't have made it alone so let me just thank all my friends: thank you all for your friendship, advice, and support, it's really meant a lot to me over these years...and now we embark on an even greater journey, good luck...even though i'm glad to be out, i'm gonna miss all those fun times: soccer, harvard model congress, the electric psychedelic pussycat swingers' club, etc....and now some words of wisdom...

When we were Freshmen I never thought that this year would come; but it did, and now we're the ones frantically meeting deadlines and planning our futures. The first day I walked into this school I knew that these years were going to be fun, exciting, and filled with numerous lessons on libe. You can call it intuition, or whatever you wish, but I was right! I am writing my blurb without names and experiences not with the intention to slight, but with the aim to include everybody; my family, my closest friends, those whom I say "Hi" to in the halls, and those whom I have not had the opportunity to know. I wish you all the best of luck, and although our graduation closes out the millennium, we are just beginning our lives! Keep smiling!

Good Bye and Good Luck to everyone. Blake-my best friend. What can I say? It's finally over. Regroup! We can tinkerbell our way right out of this "bubble world". Hay on the rotary, "the face" with worms for cyebrows, horseback riding (we can actually say that we did something constructive). What's with that puff-puff pass thing anyway? Just hold onto it! I love you. Thank you for always listening to my dreams. Stop feeling so alone - you're not. Kekes- Blakes forever! Just kidding. 1 wouldn't forget you. Let's hope that whole deserted island thing doesn't happen. I'd go nuts and besides, what would we drink? Please don't sing. Stop being so niee - it kills me to see you get hurt. I love you. Mo- you're my girl. Where's the ? What? Mo's house? Thanks for always listening to me even though I'm "the Mike" in my relationships. Maine parties. I love you. Niek- 1 still can't figure you out. Thanks for the wheels when I don't have 'cm. 3 days later. BARTHOLOMEW! I love you. Lynne- I admire your strength so much. Work fun. Why do we always have to be so paranoid? I love you. Emily Wheelehair in the mall ('eause I promised I'd put it in). I miss you and I love you Serena- my eonfidant. We've been through so much. I miss you and I love you. Mara-friends forever. Eva-1 love you. Keep in touch To my family- Mom and Dad: good thing you guys stopped when you did. I think I'm as close to perfection as they come. Thank you for sticking by me for the times that I was not so perfect. Sisters. You are my closest friends and the few people I can depend on. Thank -Julic Sobkowiez you. I love you all.

Kristy: Hey L O. You're my (Richard + Leslie) - Chris. So little space....Page is #1, next comes the iMac. This year and a half has been great, I've enjoyed finding the way to llama school with the love gecko. September sucked but I couldn't have done it without you. You rock death, gugg gugg gugg and I love you. By the way, who was the girl in the freaky car? Baby I'm Amazed.... Swartzkoff: you're still The Man. Thanks again, I don't know how I'm ever going to be able to repay you. Remember the 3-bite hamburger record on beanie babie night, and Godzilla sucked. Sorry about finding you a job that had viruses but you've survived worse. Don't get lost in D.C., I'm sure you'll have a "good time." Kelly: I don't know where to begin so I'm not even going to try. Five years and still going strong, who would've thought? By the way, the track meet junior year was for you. Kenny: still can't believe you have a \(\sum_{a} \) key on that thing. We'll get you a chord eventualy, don't worry. Two dead batteries in two different cars, I feel your pain. Atsushi: "Loppy, your voice sounds different!" All I have to say is - Hank get mad, TURN INTO TANK! You rocked Brit Lit and Humanities AKat79. Jared: I leave you more enlightened, knowing that you'll never forget that hamburgers can fold the way I made them. Dave N: You must save rock and roll, it is your quest. Watch out for South Park, it's very resourceful....and of course, there's a "Hank get mad, TURN-INTO TANK!" for you too. Treen: I may be from Ohio, but you're from Leeds! At least I won't have to face the embarassment of losing to Scumchester. Loppy: so many Junior year quotes: "You're dust Ryan P. Carroll, that's what you are!", "Bop 'em on the head," and who could forget "What manner of treachery is this?" Humanities wasn't quite the same without the heshbot or Mr. Busharu. Bittarellic you're dam tootin it's not Led Zoppelin, so why are you listening to it? "Get over the punk rock thing," it'll do you some good. Frank: you're the Frizzank forever. Shout-Outs to: Meredith, Colleen, Carla, Schrock, Stan, Steve, Keira, Mo, Lauren, Beckman and everyone else I know I forgot. Thanks a lot Dr. I hope your ends come as quick as mine did, see you the next time around. PEACE.

"Don't cry because it's over, smile because it happened."

Corb Res-What can I say? You are truly the best. Boston trips, bonding at Bertucci's, Health Kicks, Lexington basketball courts, late night talks. I never would have gotten through the past five years without you. You've helped me to crawl out of my shell and motivated me to step up. Thank you. Ayry.Blastin' the singles in your car, Chatham, our beautiful math apron, detours and drivebys, the terminal, you went to Enka this weekend, didn't you? Ay, I can't even tell you how many days were brightened because of you. Thanks for always being there and being completely honest with me. Kel'lee'. The gym. Tito, sparkly bracelets, Ladles in Red, Top 10-Soccer Bail List, Assaglo's, Chatham. Someday we'll eat at the Roadkill Cafe. Kel, you are an awesome person and friend. Lauren-How many mails in one day? bread is bird food, um...officer, I think my friend is stuck in the bathroom. Laurit all started in 7th grade with music, art and study. Thanks for introducing me to a new world of people. Andrew is adorable. "...if you have faith as small as a mustard seed...Nothing will be impossible for you" (Matthew 17:20). Cindy-Look out for that birk, Chatham, Friday's experiences, the Hyannis Olive Garden, beach trips. You are one of the sweetest people I know. Annie-Thanks for the sewing Instructions, dance lessons, and art tips. I don't know where I'd be without you! Thanks for being a great friend. Crystal-My French buddy...I wouldn't have gotten through it without you. Youth mass, youth group. Thanks for just being you. Keira-Hunger pains, sophomore study. We've had some good laughs. Mag ale-Freshman b-ball-basketball buddies. Liz-Kevin at Friday's, guess the name, 96.1. Do you believe 12 years together is now over? What a ride it's been. 1e1f. Pete. Dan-Two words: sophomore year. Dairy Dome, Friendly's, Ciro's, permits, licenses. We've had some good times. Rob-You are too funnyl Thanks for all the stories. BillyE-You always made my day. Thanks for all the laughs. D

~Baldwin~ I have only one word. SCRAPPERS! I had lots of fun at Uconn too (Rasheed), and I also hope we have fun in Issues. Have a great year with Miller. A little 2-on-2? (Revenge of the Wombat) ~Swanson~A little ping-pong? Golf? (Putting for quarters) Cooking was the best with Jimmy and Killian. A little hangman, Jimmy? English with Magic Benton ~Knuckles~ I'll miss the movies, man Golf with Swanson and Dre, too. Where can we find some good Hawaiian shirts? ~Andreas~ Just don't deal slowly in blackjack, that's all I ask Thanks for the free trips to Villa. I enjoyed playing soccer with you for 4 years. You are truly the "Greek". ~Dupuis~I'll never forget our basketball games with Ragheb and Mota and our badminton, that was the best gym ever! ~Homsey~You are the funniest kid I've ever met Never lose your sense of humor. T. Walsh junior year was wicked fun ~Horace~You better eat your vitamins, little man I'm glad you were in the ABC Program and I got to know you Freshman English, 99.5, baby! ~Yuan~I will never have a bruise as big as the one you gave me freshman year. I'll try to teach you to jump before the year is over. ~Scharf~What can I say except "Scharf Daddy". Doleac, we got to go skiing together. Thanks for bringing me to the hospital that time. Those projects were fun with Shane-I had fun playing soccer with you, Canadian (and bowling too) ~The Soccer Team~ Boys, no matter how we did, I always had fun. We don't have a losing record to anybody, aww yeah Black! To all my other acquaintances: I'm am happy to have known you. Class of '99: We kind of got screwed with open campus, studies and the 8th graders. The Flood was awesome though and I look forward to graduating with all of you in June A word of advice. Julie, your my bestfriend in the world from tinkerbell, hay in the rotary, and partying in the most random places. Weve done it all, even horseback riding. Thanks for being the shoulder I cry on, and my guardian angel. I LOVE YOU. Sandy, your the queen of attitude, and have taught me the importance of pride. Remember hopping fences in medford and getting down in lynn, Shopping at the gall and clubbing. Brandy you make all the brothers heads turn. Alex, "Biggie give me one more chance', Keith stop breathing down my neck, your a sweetheart don't ever change. Leida- your beutifull, you Italian mobster. Your the only person i have ever met who can actually support their big mouth. you have big ones babe. Rae Rae- you allways were above winchester not just because of "Eastie", influince but because you just are.

BABY. Everyone else I love you all, each one of you have impacted me. thanks for the memories and all of your smiles. To my family, whom I owe it all to, I dont know how you put up with me, but you did. Through all the wacked things I have done you gave me your forgivness and guidance. mom thanks for the style, attitude and dreams. Daddy for the generosity, ability to forgive and forget and for spoiling me to death. And ali thank you for having my back and covering for me in all the times i snuck behind mom and dads back. It was a miracle from god that I Recieved you as a family, because I never would have survived without you. I love you

"Happiness makes up in height for what it lacks in length."

These years in high school have been great! It's a bit too sudden for it to come to an end now. So many things here remind me of joy and happiness. It will never be the same once we get out of here, but luckily we'll still have all these memories. Thank you my friends for giving me support. Without you, I wouldn't be motivated to get up at six-thirty in the morning. It's too much fun to hang around you all, nothing else compares, and it should never end. I really hope to see as many of you as possible further in life. I'll treasure all these moments. Thanks so much. Wish every one of you good luck, I won't forget you.

Yoni Zmiri

The memories are endless but the space is so limited. How do you fit a lifetime of memories into a space this big. Pascale-you know that there's not enough space in this entire book to write about everything that we've been through. For us this is just the beginning of new things to come. I'll always love ya! Merri-my one and only. My first friend, you will always be in my thoughts. Stay strong. I luv ya. Cat, Lizzy, and Sarah-I love you guys. We've been through so much. From dance recitals, to Jenny Stringer videos, and even "getting Dave Matthews tickets" through the woods. You will always have a special place in my heart. To anyone that I forgot to write about, it doesn't mean you are forgotten from my memory. To mom, dad, Adi, and Shelley-thanks for always being there. I couldn't have done it without your support. To the class of 99'-a new generation is ahead of us and we're there to lead it. GOOD LUCK TO EVERYONE!

Wow, it is hard to believe that we are already done. It has been fun, especially the last few years There are so many people that I would like to include here, but you will have to forgive me if I forget some of you. John Thanks for being such a good friend. I had fun driving around all the time even though we always whined about how bonng it was. See you later. Mike: You have been one of my best friends since the good old days in Lincoln school. I hope you have a good time in college. I hope I see you around Bill. The Kriicks should have beaten those scraps from Miarni. Oh well. It's been a blast, I will see you around. Kofi: Thanks for making those hellish wrestling practices a little more fun. I had fun at penn state, well not really, but it was memorable at least. Have fun in college Dan: Maybe the Knicks will win it one day. I'll see you around Swanny: Good luck in college, I had fun at youre gigantic house. It's been fun. See you later Stevens: Maybe some day you will stop drinking that flat diet coke. Dont over dose on fries. Well, thanks for always having me over. See you later. Football team. It has been great. You guys are some of my best friends, and I wish you all good luck in college, or whatever else you end up doing. Flemming, thanks for being the only other kid that understands the pain of having a fat head. Wrestling team: We have gone through a lot of hard work together, and you all are great people. Good luck, especially if you end up wrestling in college. Lauren: You were a lot of fun to hang out with. I had fun in all of those conversations on AOL. I spent way to much time on it. Oh well, I'll see you around. Pete: I had fun in Skinders English class, well not really, but it was about the only class I had with you. Good luck in college. Kelly Good luck in college. I hope you have a good time. Shane: I had fun watching you argue with Mr Walsh for periods at a time. I'll see you around Kristyn. Good luck, I hope you have fun in college. Caitlin, Krista, Paige. You guys were always fun to be around I wish we got to hang out more I had fun in Mr. Walshes class, even though it got to be a pain sometimes. Some people are still calling me Jum because of you, oh well, I dont mind that much. Paige, thanks for all the rides home Junior year. i hope you liked the special weird dance thing i did. Krista, I had fun sitting next to you in History, thanks for writing so much junk all over my notebook. Caitlin, I meant gym stinks, not jim stinks. Goot luck in college. I'll see you guys around. Horace and Yuan: I did not get to hang out with you guys that much, but you were good friends any ways. Good luck in whatever you do. Everybody: Stay in touch, I want to here from all of you!! Dear mom, dad, and Steve: Thanks for always being there. Knicks are going all the way whenever this damn strike

James Homsey clears up. Any ways, see you all later and good luck

Fact is, a home is the largest single asset most people acquire in a lifetime. As such, it deserves the best possible protection against loss. A homeowner's policy provides the best dollar-for-dollar protection value.

- One policy does it all. A homeowner's policy includes coverage for your home and other structures on your property, as well as your personal possessions-from your living room furniture to the clothes on your back.
- A homeowner's policy can even provide for increased living expenses if your home is ever damaged to the point of being uninhabitable.
- If any person is injured on your property, a homeowner's policy provides a minimum of $100,000 for liability should a lawsuit arise.

At Saltmarsh, we are dedicated insurance experts, well qualified to discuss your insurance needs for coverage-from summer cottages to corporate headquarters, compact cars to private jets. With complete insurance services for auto, home or life, we are committed to working for your needs so that you can enjoy the rest of what life has to offer—with peace of mind.

- William Blake (AND MOM, AND DAD, AND JOSH, AND GRANDPA JOE, AND HAMISH) OEAR MEREOITH, SOMEBOOY ONCE SAID THAT SELFHOOD BEGINS WITH WALKING AWAY AND LOVE IS PROVED BY LETTING GO. YOU STARTED WALKING AWAY WHEN YOU WERE THAEE YEARS OF AGE. AFTER GETTING UPSET ONE BEAUTIFUL SUMMER OAY, YOU DECIDED TO RUN AWAY FROM HOME. YOU PACKED YOUR MY LITTLE PONY SUITCRSE WITH THE ESSENTIALS, A CARE BEAR AND YOUR BELOVED 'DIAPY', GAABBED A BOTTLE FILLEO WITH ORANGE JUICE AND MARCHEO OUT THE FRONT OOOA. YOUR JOURNEY CONSISTED OF A SHORT WALK DOWN TO THE BIG ROCK BY THE ENO OF THE ORIUEWAY WHERE YOU SAT, WE BELIEVE, SOMEWHAT STARTLED BY YOUR OWN BOLDNESS. SEVERAL MINUTES PASSED BEFORE YOU TURNED AROUND AND CAME BACK UP TO THE PORCH. THEN, UNDER THE WATCHFUL GAZE OF A FEW SLIGHTLY PANICKED FAMILY MEMBERS, YOU PUT YOUR HEAO OOWN ON YOUR SUITCASE AND PROCEEDED TO FALL FAST ASLEEP ON THE VERY SPOT FROM WHICH YOU HAO SET OUT.

THAT EPISODE INVOLUEO LETTING YOU GO, BUT IT WAS INFINITELY EASIER THAN WHAT WE RAE FACED WITH TODAY. YOU HAVE ALWAYS BEEN MORE THAN READY TO EMBARK ON THE NEXT CHAPTER OF YOUR LIFE. WE WATCH YOU NOW, AND ONCE AGAIN A TWINGE OF PANIC BEGINS TO CAEEP IN. HOWEVER, THIS TIME THERE IS NO NEED TO WORRY, FOR YOU HRUE GROWN INTO A VERY STRONG, INTELLIGENT AND TALENTEO YOUNG WOMAN.

WELL, MINNIE, YOU ARE NO LONGER 'THE ONLY BABY LEFT'. WE WANT YOU TO KNOW THAT WE ARE SO THANKFUL FOR HAVING YOU IN OUR LIVES. WE ARE PROUD OF YOUR MANY ACHIEVEMENTS AND RESPECTFUL OF YOUR INCEPENCENT NATURE. WE LOVE YOU MORE THAN YOU COULD EVER BEGIN TO AEALIZE AND LOOK FORWAAD TO SEEING YOU ACCOMPLISH MANY WONDEAFUL THINGS.

Maggie,
You have filled our lives with love and laughter. We are so proud of the young woman you have become- warm, sensitive, caring, responsible, and always with a smile. With these qualities you can only succeed in life, and we know you will.

Ti Vogliamo Tanto Bene! Love, MAMMA, PAPA, & TONY

Dweezil,

You've added spice to my life and gray hair to my head. Congratulations! Good luck at BHCC. Don't worry about the "For Sale" sign - we'll always have a room for you.

Love,

Mike

Nick,

We are so proud of you! You must know that you can accomplish anything you set your mind and heart to. Sometimes it has seemed like a long road, but you made it. Now you can go out into the world and show them what you're really made of.

I know that you have a lot to offer this world. Your intelligence, kindness, humor and persistence will pay off.

Love, Mom, Dad, Rocky & Vinnie

Megan,
Read between the lines and know that I love you: call home, let me know where you are,

Friends & Cousins Forever

Our little jog-a-holics. You now have B.C.A.C. and have distinguished yourselves. Soon you will be leaving your messy bedrooms behind to head for the big time.

What do you want to be when you grow up???

Smurf on!!!

If it was you'd know where it was!!!

The weakest thing we could ever do is to keep you by our side. The bravest thing we could ever do is to send you off with pride.

Congratulations and may all your dreams come true.

Remember, a warm bed is always waiting here for you.

IT IS EASY TO BE PLEASANT

"It is easy to be pleasant
When life flows by like a song.
But the man worth while is the one who will smile,
When everything goes dead wrong.
For the test of the heart is trouble
And it always comes with years.
And the smile that is worth the praises of earth,
Is the smile that shines thru tears."

Kirsten we are very proud of the person you've become.

To Our Angel

Reach for the stars. Share your favorite things with friends. Keep your halo polished. Show respect for others. Always mind your manners. Make friends with someone who is shy. Plant a garden for the butterflies. Say at least one nice thing to someone every day. Never make fun of anyone. Talk to the plants to help them grow. Think happy thoughts. Clean up after yourself Clean up after others. Donate part of your earnings to a worthy cause. Always tell the truth. Be patient with those who don't fly as fast as you do. Sprinkle a little star dust wherever you go. love Dad, Mom, and Kyle
